before the war a prominent grocer, at the corner of Meeting and Queen streets, died suddenly yesterday while sitting down to dinner. Mr. Meldau find been unwell for some time, but was not complaining of any sickness at the time of his sudden death. ANOTHER BA: MASQUE .- The German Rifle C'ub have announced that a bal masque will be given under their auspices, at the new halls in the Acad may of Music, on the 28th instant. The halls are admirably adapted to such an entertainment, and the coming ball promises to eclipse, in the brilliancy, originality, and grotesqueness of the costumes, all that have preceded it. DEATH OF AN OLD NEWSPAPER MAN.-Mr. years, connected with our contemporary, the Courier, died vesterday morning of dropsy, after a man of that paper, but his health broke down du ring the war, which impaired his strength and lessoned his duties. He was about 65 years of full of joke and jest, fun and pun dramaticage and unmarried.

EMIGRATING TO ALABAMA.-Magistrate J. G. Mackey on Monday drew up a contract between W. R. Pollard, agent for Messrs. Fowler & Som merville, extensive planters in Montgomery County, Alabama, and a number of colored labor ers who have engaged themselves to the firm to work as plantation hands the ensuing season. Several of the contract hands left yesterday in company with Mr. Fowler. Others will follow in a few days.

A GENUINE INK EXTRACTOR .- Perry & Co.'s "Ink extractor and universal anti-s-ain" is an English invention, and an invaluable companion to every one. It removes ink, iron mould and other stains or discolorations, from whatever cause, with the greatest ease. The material enclosed in a cedar case like a lead pencil, which can be cut away as required. A few of these extractors can be seen at the store of Mr. B. K Neufville, on Broad street.

THE PLODDING GERMAN .- One of the "Green Line" excursionists, who is evidently a keen observer, writes to a Cincinnati paper as follows: "In the environs of Charleston and Augusta may be seen the vegetable gardens of the thrifty, plodding German. In those cities, along the various railways of the South, away up St. John's River and, in a word, wherever commerce exists to any considerable degree, the inviting sign of an overflowing mug with lager beer painted in glowing yellow letters may be seen, a sign of hope forever nigh. If a neatly trimmed garden plat, whitefence and new cottage attracts your eye near any Southern city on the great lines of travel, you may rest assured that it belongs to a German. He utilizes everything about him, brings order out of chaos, and suggests the possible convenience and comfort of living in a country where nature indalges rankness, and the very air is heary with indolence and sloth."

THE CATHOLIC FAIR .- As was predicted, the second night of the fair was better than the first, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather. The decorations of the hall were somewhat improved, and the tables presented more attractions. Among the fancy articles was a finely executed piece of worsted-work of an Arab and his steed. A picture of the battle between General O'Neill, of the Fenian army, and the Queen's own, at Ridgeway, was a new feature on one of the tables. The fair was well attended, and it was almost impossible to resist the charms of the various articles on the rame lists, and to avoid the pleadings to take just one chance.

The following prizes were won: Pair earrings, Miss Mary Green; fruit cake, E. T. Schachte; W. A. Macduff, Jacksonville; A. S. Davenport, trunk, J. Shipley; wax doll, John Jones; trunk, James J. Grace; card receiver, Miss M. E. O'Brien; sofa cushion, L. DuBois; fancy wax doll, Mrs. L. Aimar; walking baby, ——; watch stand, Miss Mary E. Pearce; china doll, Miss Marie Michel; fruit care, H. J. CRUMBS .- Holmes' Lyceum has been engaged by the Tremaine Brothers and Mr. John G. Pierson for a series of popular musical entertainments, commencing on Friday evening.

In consequence of the disagreeable weather, the real estate sales advertised to take place yesterday were unavoidably postponed. John Robinson's Circus and menagerie is in Columbus, Ga. Grau's German Opera Troupe perform in Co lumbus on Saturday night next. They go thence direct to Savannah.

Governor Scott has appointed J. C. Smith magistrate for Newberry County; John Epton, notary for Spartanburg County; D. T. Richardson, notary for Anderson County; and commissioned S. W.

Melton, judge of the Fifth Circuit. Among the works of art on exhibition at the Catholic Fair, is a portrait of the late Father W. Burk, which was reproduced from an oil painting by Mr. T. P. Smith, an artist of some merit. Thursday has been appointed by Judge Carpenter as sentence day.

THE ACADEMY.

The Oates' Burlesque and Opera Troupe.

The second performance of "The Field of the Cloth of Gold," by the Oates Burlesque and Operatic Troupe, was in every way as brilliant as the first; the company, grown accustomed to the house, proving themselves masters of the lyrical and dramatic situation.

Many things are indispensable to the perfect representation of the spectacular burlesques now in vogue, and all these are possessed by the company now performing at the Academy of Music. They are well drilled in the tactics of their Their acting is compact, precise, vigorous and lively. From the "soldiers of the period" to the "prima donna," they move with the regularity of clock-work, while THE CHEAPEST YET .- The News Job Office is the fair blondes and gazelle-eyed brunettes now printing bill-heads in the best style and on glide and bound with the harmonious grace of a bevy of Terpsichores. Besides this, it may be hinted that the Oates Troupe have the | Chapter of Ireland to this Grand Chapter, which personal attractions, which are never more fascinating than upon the stage, when decked in the splendor of silk and satin, laces and plumes, slashed doublets and bewildering tights. And, last of all, the Oates Troupe have voice and vocal skill, a large company in numbers, capital scenery and gorgeous dresses. This was the conclusion reached on Monday, and confirmed and strengthened last night.

Mrs. Oates (Earl Darnley) has a flexible voice of large compass, and sings with taste and fine effect. A peculiar style of singing is needed in burlesques, and this lady has mastered this difficult branch of vocal art. It is not a small thing to sing so that every word shall be heard, so that each pun shall tell, so that the singer retains the beauty of the original air and charges upon it the queer fun of the travestie-the Caliban of sense joined to the Miranda of melody. As an actress Mrs. Oates is as faswithin the City of Charleston, for the week end- cinating as concentrated sunbeams, and in her ing February 12th, shows a total of three whites rich dress, which displays to advantage her lithe charming companions in Mrs. Julia Sheldon, Miss Sheldon (Constance de Grey) is as rhythmical in her movements as an Italian love song. Mr. Hernandez is a wonderful performer upon the guitar, and played in this State twenty years ago, in company with Sharpley's Minstrels. To his skilful manipulation of the guitar, he now adds gymnastic feats, which only an india-rubber man ought to be able to perform. Standing erect. he knocks off his hat with his right foot, and slaps his face with his left, and slips down and falls up in a way that must be seen to be under-

The burlesque alone, or the tumbleronicon alone, or the guitar playing alone, or the dancing of Hernandez alone, would make up a fair enter-tainment. No wonder, then, that the audience have been for two nights surfeited with sweetness, and it is with diffidence that we suggest that to encore the principal performers more than four or five times in as many minutes, is just a little hard upon the company.

the following standing committees:

the Diocese of South Carolina, held on the 11th instant, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

The Standing Committee desire to express their sense of bereavement in the sudden removal, by Divine Providence, of their reverend president, who, for half a century, has been a member of represented, and work was commenced in this body, and for thirty years has presided over Its deliberations

A few weeks since the Rev. Christian Hanckin. D. D., met with us, and no one can forget the solemnity with which, in what seems now almost a prophetic spirit, he spoke of his approaching end. Appearing to be in vigorous health, though the snows of eighty winters upon his brow made him venerable, the firmness of his step and the he alluded to his long connection with the committee, encouraged the hope that he would be preserved for usefulness in the church. In a mo- nected with said Bank. FRANK ARNIM, ment, however, he was called by God to his rest, and there remains to us only the sad office of bearing testimony to his worth.

The oldest of our Clergy, he connects us with the Episcopate of Bishop Dehon, by whom, in 1813, as his first official act, he was ordained to the Deaconate. As the friend and counsellor of both Bishops Bowen and Gadsden, he took an active the following standing committees:

On Dispensations—Companions Augustine T. Smythe, J. B. Clarke, H. L. Kerr.

On Appeals and Grievances—Companions James Birnle, — King, Henry Buist.
On Finance—Companions J. Hoyt, — Jackson, H. McCorkle.
On Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer's Repart in the affairs of the Diocese. For many years he represented our church in the General Convention, and at the Council of Southern Dioceses, held in Augusta, was chosen the presiding officer of the House of Deputies. He filled the positions to which his brethren called him with efficiency and dignity, and his name is interwoven with the history of the Church in South Carolina.

In the Standing Committee he presided with impartiality, and spared no labor in fulfilling the duties of president. We shall miss his venerable presence, his practical judgment and knowledge of canon law, and more than all, the memory and influence of the past which he wove in with upon a new generation; as we look upon vacant seats, we ask, "Your fathers, where are they ?" Entered upon their rest, they have bequeathed to us the faith of Christ which sustained them, and the pious example which illustrated it. May we be "followers of them, even as they were of Christ."

We would adopt as our own, in order that they may obtain a more enduring record, the following resolutions of the Clergy, passed around his grave: The Senior Presbyter of the Diocese has been called from the church on earth, which he had Committee on Grand Secretary's and Treasurer's served with diligence and fidelity for fifty-eight years. His venerable head will no more be seen in his

Committee on Grand High Priest's Address. familiar resorts, nor in the councils of the church, nor in the meetings of his brethren. From our earliest years we have looked up with respect to mittee on Dispensations, which was adopted; him as one of the elders in Israel. Nor can we permit the fraternal and almost filial ties which united us to be so abruptly severed, without an expression of our feelings at his sudden departure; therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of the Rev. Dr. HANCKEL we mourn the loss of an old, well-tried and faithful sevant of God and of His Church, and a strong conservator of her established doctrine, discipline and worship.

Resolved, That we will cherish the memory of one who was emphatically an honest man, itrm of purpose, tenacious of principle, and fearless of responsibility in carrying out his own convictions of duty, in the church and in the world.

Resolved, That we offer to his family our sin-cere sympathy in the loss of their head, who, in the parental and conjugal relations, manifested so much fidelity, tenderness and beautiful devotion. Resolved, That we will endeavor to improve this warning voice by renewed zeal in our ministry, that we may be "diligent in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord," until we shall be gathered unto our fathers, and "enter into the rest which remains for the people of God."

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and es capes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings, on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reson say on this vital subject? Does it not tells us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does. The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies, let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroker series of satisfactory-testimonials assures us that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS posesses strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This, therefore, is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperilled either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional, or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The venom of noxious reptiles is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, ollious disorders, disturbances of the bowels and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrions elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can appose to the deleterious influences that assail it, e safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medifeb14 GD&C MEDICAL NOTICE.—PATIENTS
